March 27, 2023	Promulgation of amended Articles 6 and 7

- Article 1 The Center for General Education (“CGE”), National Taiwan University (“NTU” or “the University”) formulates the Regulations Governing the Establishment of the Review Panel for University-level Interdisciplinary Bachelor’s Programs (“the Regulations”) pursuant to Article 4, Paragraph 2 of the NTU Guidelines for the Establishment of College-level and University-level Interdisciplinary Bachelor’s Programs (“the Guidelines”) and Article 4, Paragraph 2 of the NTU Regulations Governing the Requirements of University-level Interdisciplinary Bachelor’s Programs (“the Regulations”) for the purpose of establishing the Review Panel for University-level Interdisciplinary Bachelor’s Programs.
- Article 2 The Review Panel shall consist of the following members: The Director of CGE, serving as the chairperson, and full-time NTU faculty members. Each member of the Review Panel shall serve a one-year term and may be reappointed. The Director of CGE shall be an ex officio member and the convener of the Review Panel.
- Article 3 The responsibilities of the Review Panel shall be as follows:
1. To review the proposals submitted by undergraduate students to apply for University-level interdisciplinary bachelor’s programs;
  2. To review and approve the designations of the interdisciplinary studies sought as well as the titles of bachelor’s degrees sought by program applicants;
  3. To review matters that require the attention of the Review Panel, as stipulated by relevant regulations.
- Article 4 When the Review Panel conducts the review of a student’s proposal, the Director of CGE shall select members of the Review Panel from relevant disciplines based on the specialization listed in the proposal to carry out a written preliminary review. If necessary, experts may be solicited to participate in the review process. Upon completion of the preliminary review, a review meeting shall be convened to conduct a follow-up and final review, the results of which shall be announced before the start of the following semester.
- Article 5 When conducting the review of a proposal submitted by an undergraduate student to apply for University-level interdisciplinary bachelor’s program, the Review Panel shall determine:

1. whether the applicant's motivation for applying to the program is explained properly and the learning objectives are clearly defined;
2. whether the curriculum planning and learning objectives are aligned;
3. whether the internships, or practicum or topical courses are relevant to the planned curriculum;
4. whether the designation of the interdisciplinary studies sought as well as the title of bachelor's degree sought are appropriate.

Article 6 A Review Panel meeting may only be held with at least half of the members present, and a resolution shall only be adopted by at least half of the attending members in concurrence. If necessary, the applicant (or other relevant persons) may be called upon to explain his/her proposal in person.
