Directives for the Establishment of the Publication Review
Committee

September 28, 2009 Passed by the General Education Committee at its 94th meeting

- Article 1 The Center for General Education (“the Center”) establishes the Publication Review Committee (“the Committee”) to review textbooks for liberal education courses whose publication is implemented by the Center.
- Article 2 The Committee shall be composed of 7 to 9 members, including the Director and Associate Director of the Center, the Director of the Division of General Education, and the Director of the Division of Liberal Education as ex officio members. The Director of the Center shall also serve as convener of the Committee. The term of ex officio members shall last until the termination of their term of office. The remaining quota shall be filled, depending on the content of the book to be published, by inviting 3 to 5 members of the Center’s Curriculum Committee to serve as members of the Committee.
- Article 3 When meetings are convened, persons from relevant organizations may be invited for consultation based on actual need.
- Article 4 The review process is divided into three phases as follows:
1. Preliminary review: The Committee shall review whether the nature of the proposed book is consistent with the purpose of publishing a textbook for general and liberal education.
  2. Professional review: At least two scholars/experts in related fields shall be nominated by the Committee to conduct the professional review.
  3. Secondary review: Opinions collected from the round of professional review shall be submitted to the Committee for secondary review.
- Article 5 The Directives shall be passed by the General Education Committee, and then implemented on the date of promulgation.
